whereas it has been announced in the public press, and there is reason to believe, that a contract has been entered into by and between the Central Pacific Railway Company and the Union Pacific Railway Company, of the one part, and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, of the other part, by the terms of which contract the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, in consideration of receiving the sum of $110,000 per month from the railway companies, binds itself to charge such rates for freights and passengers as may be fixed by the railway companies and to collect the same from the commercial public; and whereas the effect of such a contract is directly prejudicial to the public interests and contrary to the public policy that controlled Congress in chartering the Union Pacific Railway Company and in granting to both railway companies large subsidies in money and lands: therefore, that the Committee on the Judiciary be instructed to investigate and report whether such a contract has been made, and what legislation is necessary to prevent the execution of the same and protect the public interest; and said committee may report a bill to carry its recommendations into effect. whereas the resumption of specie payments, the circulation of gold, silver, and greenbacks as lawful money of the United States under existing laws, and the reasonable expectation that the present condition of the finances of the country will not be disturbed by precipitate legislation, have been followed by restoration of business confidence, revival of all the industries of the country, and the inauguration of general prosperity; and that in the opinion of the Senate any legislation during the present session of Congress materially changing the existing system of finance would be inexpedient. Ordered to lie on the table and be printed 26 resolution offered by, whereas the following appears in the New Orleans Democrat, a newspaper published in New Orleans, on the 9th day of March, 1880, purporting to be extracted from a newspaper called the Charleston News: "It is well understood in Washington that the woman Jessie Raymond was carried there by W. P. Kellogg, the carpet-bag Senator from Louisiana, and that he has been threatening for some time to have this suit brought unless Senator Hill would cease his efforts to have him (Kellogg) unseated. The story of the seduction is not believed by those acquainted with the facts; and, even if it be true, resort to so dastardly a means to attain a political end can only recoil on the head of the concocter of the scheme:" that a committee of five Senators be appointed by the Chair who shall inquire and report concerning the truth of the charges and allegations in said article and the facts and circumstances connected therewith; said committee shall have power to send for persons and papers, to administer oaths, to employ a clerk and stenographer, and to sit during the sessions of the Senate. resolutions offered by—whereas J. V. Admire, E. B. Purcell, George T. Anthony, Len. T. Smith, and Levi Wilson, citizens and residents of the State of Kansas, were duly served with subpœnas in the months of September and October, 1879, issued by the sub-committee of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, then sitting in Topeka, in said State of Kansas, commanding them to appear before said sub-committee and then and there testify in reference to the subject-matters then under consideration by said sub-committee, to wit: charges relating to the election of John J. Ingalls, a Senator from said State of Kansas; and resolutions offered by—whereas said Admire, Purcell, Anthony, Smith, and Wilson refused to appear and testify before said sub-committee as required by said subpœnas: therefore, that an attachment issue forthwith, directed to the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, commanding him to bring said J. V. Admire, E. B. Purcell, George T. Anthony, Len. T. Smith, and Levi Wilson forthwith to the bar of the Senate to answer for contempt of a process of this body. Considered by unanimous consent and agreed to 153 whereas Leonard T. Smith, now in custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms under an attachment for contempt in refusing obedience to a summons to appear before a committee of the Senate, has purged himself of contempt and expressed his willingness to appear before the Committee on Privileges and Elections and answer such proper questions as may be put to him: therefore, that said Leonard T. Smith be discharged from arrest, and that he appear before said Committee on Privileges and Elections and testify under the subpœna served upon him. Rejected 240, 241 that the telegraphic messages and the copies or records of the same in the possession of the telegraph companies, their officers or servants, are not privileged by law from production and examination on proper process before a committee authorized to send for persons and papers.

that the order for the production of such documents ought to be so regulated by a sound discretion as to protect the privacy of communications not relating to the matter under investigation, and especially that the authority making such order ought first to be satisfied that the message sought is, if obtained, likely to be material to the pending investigation, and the order ought as far as practicable to describe with reasonable certainty the particular message or record. Reported from the Committee on Privileges and Elections and ordered to lie upon the table 937 that the testimony taken by the committee proves that bribery and other corrupt means were employed by persons favoring the election of Hon. John J. Ingalls to the Senate to obtain for him the votes of members of the Legislature of Kansas in the senatorial election in that State. But it is not proved by the testimony that enough votes were secured by such means to determine the result of the election in his favor, nor is it shown that Senator Ingalls authorized acts of bribery to secure his election. resolutions offered by—whereas the restoration of silver money to the lawful currency of the country, by act of Congress of February 28, 1878, was demanded with singular unanimity by the American people, and is now sustained by the public interests and by the full force of an intelligent public opinion; and whereas by the act of May 31, 1878, the circulation of United States legal-tender notes, commonly known as greenbacks, was fixed at the amount then in existence, to wit, $346,000,000, and the Secretary of the Treasury was prohibited from reducing it below that amount by any process or upon any pretext whatever; and whereas the aforesaid United States legal-tender note or greenback circulation, having been accepted by the Government for customs duties, became at once, and is now, equal in value to gold, and in certain transactions at a premium over both the precious metals; and whereas these financial measures, forced upon the present Administration, and adopted by Congress over its most strenuous opposition, have restored the confidence of the business world in the character, the amount, and the stability of the money of this country, thereby creating a general revival of trade and of business prosperity: therefore, that the Senate has heard with profound astonishment and deep regret the proposition of the President of the United States in his recent annual message, and of the Secretary of the Treasury, to inaugurate a new and uncalled-for financial agitation, with a view to the destruction of the most necessary currencies now in use in the hands of the people. Ordered to lie on the table and be printed ... 31 as the sense of the Senate, that such an agitation is detrimental to the public interests, calculated to unsettle all values, confuse and disturb business, shake public and private confidence, and that it calls for immediate and unqualified condemnation. Ordered to lie on the table and be printed ... 31 that the true interests of the country require the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver on conditions of exact equality; and that it is the part of a wise financial policy to maintain the United States legal-tender-note circulation, commonly known as greenbacks, in volume not less than now exists, and to preserve its legal-tender quality unrestricted as to amount and unimpaired in legal effect. Ordered to lie on the table and be printed ... 31 whereas large numbers of negroes from the Southern States, and especially from the State of North Carolina, are emigrating to the Northern States, and especially to the State of Indiana; and whereas it is currently alleged that they are induced to do so by the unjust and cruel conduct of their white fellow-citizens toward them in the South: therefore, that a committee of five members of this body be appointed by its presiding officer, whose duty it shall be to investigate the causes which have led to the afosesaid emigration, and to report the same to the Senate; and the said committee shall have power to send for persons and papers, compel the attendance of witnesses, and to sit at any time ... 104

that the committee appointed to investigate the exodus of negroes from the Southern to the Northern States be authorized to employ a clerk and such other attendants as may be necessary, to be paid from the miscellaneous items of the contingent fund of the Senate. Agreed to ... 212 that the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate be, and is hereby, authorized to employ an additional messenger, whose duty it shall be to transact all such business with the different Departments of the Government as may be desired by the Senators, and shall receive the same compensation as other messengers.
